

PASSION TO PERFORM

Founded in 2016, ReSeaWorld is an Italian Company specialising in Marine Bunkering

We are located in Italy, strategically positioned within cross Mediterranean major shipping routes connecting Europe, Africa and Middle East.

Our family has a very long Shipping heritage: we descend from an historical Ship Owner who was one of the most important person in the Italian Shipping world.

Following the strong crisis of recent years, I decided, thanks to my family's support, to commit myself once again into the Shipping business, move forward and start this brand new Company.

RSW is now dedicated to sell and deliver bunker and lube oil everywhere in the world, operating worldwide as both Trader and Broker, but mostly focusing in supplying Vessels in all the Italian ports where we are active with all the major Traders and Physical Suppliers.

My past experience, at the head of the family Shipping Company, allows me to understand what customers expect from us: backed by this fundamental understanding, we strive to provide them best-in-class service.

RSW, with its high quality standards, takes care of marine bunkering operation for all the Vessels, following closely every single step of the delivering process:

- Research of physical supplier.
- Constant market price monitoring in order to offer always the best solution.
- Control on delivery and bunkering operations to ensure they are met, through a strong cooperation between Agent and Supplier.
- Deep understanding of the customers needs, to guarantee top quality products and high performance.

Family is our treasure, shipping world our devotion.

Even though we are at the beginning of our path for growth, many Ship Owners have already chosen our services, trusting our commitment and experience in maritime transport and also benefiting from our tailor-made solutions and flexible approach, able to fulfill the specific needs of each client.

Our offices are open 24/7 and our team is pleased to welcome enquires at any time.

We are thankful to our Customers, Partners, Suppliers and everyone working with us for support and trust, to all Owners and Partners we address our heartfelt Thanks.
